| Location: | College of Natural and Applied Sciences/Western Pacific Tropical Research Center | | | | |
| University Information: | The University of Guam is the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific. It is a land-grant and sea-grant institution, accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Senior Commission. Located in the village of Mangilao on the island of Guam, the campus overlooks beautiful Pago Bay and the University's world-class Marine Biology Lab. The University has 3,400 students, 47% of Asian ethnicity and 45% of Pacific Islander ancestry, providing a uniquely diverse campus and multicultural atmosphere. As a regional, comprehensive, open admissions institution, the University awards degrees at the certificate, baccalaureate, and master's levels through its two colleges and four professional schools. The institution's Para Hulo' strategic plan aligns with its purpose of Ina (to Enlighten), Diskubre (to Discover), Setbe (to Service), with its vision to transform lives and advance communities as a land-grant and sea-grant University. Collectively with its multiple centers of excellence, one of the institution's key strategic initiatives is to be recognized as a research university centered in Island Wisdom. Island Wisdom acknowledges that traditional Western models of higher education have been practiced and employed; and continue to hold an important aspect in teaching, research, and service endeavors. Through its robust research portfolio fueled by extramural funding from competitive grants and contracts, the University delivers public value through dedicated and capable administration, faculty, students, and staff, which makes the University of Guam an exciting place to be for many years to come.
